Your Rights and Responsibilities

What if I disagree with a decision made?

You have the right to discuss any action taken on your application or case with a caseworker or supervisor. If you think the Division of Public Assistance or Federally Facilitated Marketplace has made a mistake on your health insurance determination or the Division of Public Assistance has made a mistake on your benefits determination, you can appeal its decision. To appeal means to tell someone at the Division of Public Assistance or the Federally Facilitated Marketplace that you think the action is wrong, and ask for a fair hearing review of the action. The request for Food Stamps may be made to any employee of the Division in person, by telephone, or in writing; requests for all other programs must be made in writing. If your disagreement has to do with medical billing or services, contact the Medicaid Recipient Information Helpline at 1-800-780-9972. Usually, you must ask for a fair hearing within 30 days from the date of the notice. Food Stamp fair hearing requests must be made within 90 days from the effective date of the action. At the hearing you may represent yourself or be represented by a legal representative. You may qualify for free legal advice and representation by contacting the Alaska Legal Services Corporation.

You may continue to receive Alaska Temporary Assistance, Adult Public Assistance, or Medicaid program benefits until a hearing decision is made. Food Stamps can continue until a hearing decision is made or until the certification period ends if you request the hearing before the effective date of the action or within 10 days from the date the notice was mailed. If the hearing decision is not in your favor you may be required to repay benefits you received while you waited for the decision.

My right to appeal

I know that I can find out how to appeal by contacting the Division of Public Assistance or the Marketplace at 1-800-318-2596. I know that I can be represented in the process by someone other than myself. My eligibility and other important information will be explained to me.

When do I need to report changes?

You must report changes in your household within 10 days of when you know of the change. If you get Alaska Temporary Assistance and a child leaves your home, you must report this within 5 days.

What changes do I need to report?

If you receive Health Insurance Benefits authorized by the Federally Facilitated Marketplace or Public Assistance Medicaid, you must report any and all changes to information provided in this application, including changes in your medical insurance.

If you receive Food Stamps and you do not receive benefits from any other program, you only need to report when your household’s total gross income goes over the income limit for your household.

If you receive public assistance services, the changes you must report include, but are not limited to the following:

- Starting or stopping a job, change in wage rate, change from part-time to full-time, or full-time to part-time
- When money you receive from sources other than working changes by more than $50
- Someone moves into or out of your home
- You move or get a new mailing address
- Your household gets a vehicle
- Your household has more than $2000 total in cash and money in bank
- Changes in your child support payment or obligation
- Changes in your medical insurance if you or anyone in your household gets Medicaid
- Pregnancy changes

Will I need to work?

To receive Alaska Temporary Assistance or Food Stamp benefits, you may have to participate in work activities. Alaska Temporary Assistance participants must prepare a Family Self-Sufficiency Plan for becoming financially independent. You must participate in approved work activities unless you qualify for an exemption. If you are an unmarried minor parent, to receive Alaska Temporary Assistance you must live with a parent or in another approved living arrangement and attend school or training. If you do not fulfill these work requirements or minor parent requirements, your benefits may be reduced or ended.

Read and keep this page.
What happens with my Child Support?
Alaska must collect child support and medical support from any parent who has the duty to pay support for a child receiving Alaska Temporary Assistance or Medicaid. This includes any money owed to you at the time you apply, as well as current and future child support payments. Any child support payments given or paid to you while receiving Alaska Temporary Assistance benefits must be reported and turned over to the State immediately. To change a child support order, you must obtain a new court order or get permission from the Child Support Services Division (CSSD). If you believe you have a good reason not to cooperate with CSSD for these programs, you must tell your caseworker immediately. You may be asked to provide information to support your reason.

When you apply for Alaska Temporary Assistance you must:
- Sign over to CSSD your right to receive and keep child support payments due to you or a child on Alaska Temporary Assistance.
- Cooperate with CSSD in establishing paternity.

When you apply for Medicaid you must:
- Assign to the State of Alaska all rights to any medical support or other third party payments to the extent the department has paid medical assistance for care and services for you or your minor children.
- Cooperate with and assist the department in identifying and providing information concerning third parties who may be liable to pay for care and services received for you or your minor children.
- Agree to apply for all other available third-party resources that may be used to provide or pay for the cost of care or services received by you or your minor children or that may be used to reimburse the state for the cost of care or services received.
- Cooperate with CSSD in establishing paternity.
- If applying for long-term care services, including Home and Community Based Waiver services, assign to the State of Alaska as a remainder beneficiary, or as the second remainder beneficiary after your spouse or minor or disabled child, for any interest that you may have in an annuity up to the amount of Medicaid benefits received.

Can the State of Alaska take my estate?
The estate of an individual age 55 years of age or older who received Medicaid benefits may be subject to a claim for recovery. This is limited to the reimbursement of services received while the recipient was in a medical institution, including a nursing home or other medical institution, or was receiving home- and community-based services. Under limited conditions, the State of Alaska may place a lien on a recipient's home. However, most estate recovery is conducted after the death of the recipient or the recipient's surviving spouse, if any, and only at a time when the recipient has no surviving child under age 21 and no surviving child who is blind or disabled.

Will someone from the Division of Public Assistance come to my home?
A Division of Public Assistance worker may visit you at home to verify your eligibility for assistance. We may also visit you to complete case management activities such as Family Self-Sufficiency Plans. If you are not completing the activities, we may visit you to determine whether you have good cause for not doing so.

How are my rights protected?
The Division of Public Assistance will collect information, including the Social Security number (SSN) of each household member who is applying for Food Stamps, Alaska Temporary Assistance, or Medicaid, to determine eligibility for public assistance benefits. The Division will verify this information through computer matching programs, including the Income and Earnings Verification System (IEVS). This information will be used to monitor compliance with program regulations and for program management. The Division may disclose this information to other Federal and State agencies for official examination, to law enforcement officials for the purpose of apprehending persons fleeing to avoid the law, and to private claims collection agencies for claims collection action. The Division may verify immigrant status of household members by contacting the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). Information obtained from these agencies may affect your eligibility and level of benefits.

Providing the requested information, including the SSN of each household member for whom you are seeking benefits, is voluntary. However, failure to provide this information will result in the denial of benefits to each individual failing to provide an SSN. Any SSN provided will be used and disclosed in the same manner, regardless of the eligibility of the individual. The Division of Public Assistance can assist you in applying for a Social Security Number if you are seeking benefits and do not have one.

Read and keep this page.
When you sign the application for assistance and use Medicaid or Chronic & Acute Medical Assistance coupons, you consent to release medical records and information about yourself and any other person you are applying for to the Department of Health and Social Services (DHSS). Upon request, any person who has medical records and information or the custody of such records shall release those records to the Department or a representative of the department.

Health or medical information DHSS may have about you is protected under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) of 1996. This federal law provides you with certain rights about how your health information is used and disclosed. The law allows you to find out how DHSS used your health information, and how DHSS has disclosed your health information outside of DHSS. The law also limits the release of information about you to the minimum amount necessary for the purpose of the disclosure and allows you to examine and obtain a copy of your own health records and to request corrections to those records.

You can get an electronic copy of the Notice of Privacy Practices at http://dhss.alaska.gov/fms/its/Documents/privatehealthcareinfo.pdf. Request a printed copy by writing to State of Alaska, DHSS Privacy Official, and P. O. Box 110650, Juneau, Alaska 99811-0650 or by email at privacyofficial@alaska.gov.

USDA and HHS are equal opportunity providers and employers.

If you have questions about the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, contact the Division of Public Assistance Civil Rights Coordinator at (907) 465-3347.

Responsibility for Overpayment

If you receive an overpayment of Public Assistance benefits or receive services to which you are not entitled, you may be financially responsible for repaying the overpayment or cost of services to the State of Alaska. This may be true even if the overpayment or improper authorization of services is due to an error on the part of the Department of Health and Social Services. By accepting benefits or services, you must understand and agree that you may have a responsibility for the repayment of benefits or services to which you were not entitled.
What happens if I do not follow the rules?

You may be prosecuted if you knowingly give false, incorrect, or incomplete information to get or try to get public assistance benefits you are not eligible for, or to help someone get benefits for which they are not eligible. You must repay any benefits you wrongly receive.

CHILD SUPPORT COOPERATION AND ASSIGNMENT OF SUPPORT

You are required by law to help get child support for a child receiving Temporary Assistance (ATAP/TANF) payments or medical support for a child receiving medical assistance (Medicaid). This means you must help locate a non-custodial parent or establish paternity for a child with no legal father. You must sign over to the State agency any child/spousal support or medical support owed to you for any month you receive assistance. If the non-custodial parent pays support payments to you while you are receiving Temporary Assistance, you must turn the payments over to Child Support Services Division (CSSD). You must do this even if no support order in effect.

☐ If CSSD sends a payment to you in error, they will contact you for repayment of that money. If you want to repay gradually out of future child support payments, instead of immediately in a lump sum, check this box.

SUPPLYING INFORMATION TO CSSD – CONFIDENTIALITY AND SAFETY

If you believe that cooperating with CSSD to get child or medical support will bring harm to you or your children and you can provide support for your belief, you may claim good cause for not cooperating. You will be asked by a Public Assistance caseworker to complete “good cause” claim forms. It is up to the caseworker to decide if you have good cause for not cooperating. CSSD will continue to pursue child or medical support against the non-custodial parent, even if you DO NOT cooperate, unless the Division of Public Assistance approves good cause. Please check one of the boxes and sign below.

☐ I agree to cooperate with CSSD.
☐ I agree to cooperate with CSSD but I want my address kept confidential.
☐ I believe I have good cause to not cooperate with CSSD.
